THE HOUSE RULES

What may be sold with what

Your price list keeps 7 rules of its own about what may be sold with what, 6 of them measured on it here. Northside has written 1, and it is off. What a rule written here refuses, the build refuses from the next pick, and says its because where it does.

1

Trailers

434 on sale

1.1 A boat is offered trailers from a series built for its own brand.

In the build: kept by the lists. The trailers offered are the ones your price list pairs with the boat. One chosen past the list is said as not paired, never refused.

626 of 626

trailer offers on today's boats whose series names a boat maker

1.2 A trailer rated to carry less than the boat weighs is never refused. Fitment says how far short it is.

In the build: said where it is broken, never refused.

0 of 351

trailer offers on today's boats that state both weights are rated under the boat

2

Motors

241 on sale

2.1 A boat's standard and first-choice motors are within its max hp.

In the build: kept by the lists. The motors offered are the ones your price list pairs with the boat. One chosen past the list over the boat's horsepower is said as outside it, never refused.

2.2 A motor under the boat's lowest rated horsepower is never refused. On a quote, the build says it is under.

In the build: said where it is broken, never refused.

72 of 778
standard motor offers on today's boats sit under it, on purpose

2.3 A motor's shaft is the length the boat's transom is cut for.

In the build: kept by the lists. The motors offered are the ones your price list pairs with the boat. One chosen past the list is not checked against the transom.

2.4 When the boat's steering is tiller, except the Highfield Classic 340, the motor's controls must be Tiller handle.

This rule is off — kept, not enforced. Switched on, the build would warn about the motor, because a tiller boat has no helm to steer a remote motor from.

Northside's, written 4 November.

36 of 513
offers your price list makes for them, taken away once it is on

NOTICED, NOT WRITTEN

A boat steered from a remote helm is never given a tiller motor.

It holds on 3,144 of 3,144 motor offers on today's remote boats. Nobody wrote it down, so the build does nothing with it.

3

Rigging and pre-delivery

3.1 A boat's rigging kit comes from the range built for its brand.

501 of 501
rigging kit offers on today's boats whose range names a boat maker

In the build: kept by the lists. The kit comes with the motor as your price list pairs them.

3.2 A boat's propeller is one the motor is offered with.

3,890 of 4,017
propeller choices on today's boats

In the build: kept by the lists. The propeller comes with the motor as your price list pairs them.

Counted on the workbook this rule was found in, not on the price list loaded here: the price list does not write which propellers each motor is offered with, so it cannot be counted on it.

NOTICED, NOT WRITTEN

A motor with mechanical controls never takes a Helm Master rigging kit.

It holds on 1,533 of 1,541 rigging kit offers on a mechanical-control motor. Nobody wrote it down, so the build does nothing with it.

It cannot be said as Northside's: it decides a kit, and a rule here decides a motor or a trailer.

NOTICED, NOT WRITTEN

A tiller boat never gets a two-battery pre-delivery kit.

It holds on 278 of 278 two-battery pre-delivery kit offers on today's boats. Nobody wrote it down, so the build does nothing with it.

It cannot be said as Northside's: it decides a kit, and a rule here decides a motor or a trailer.
